ERIKOISDANCE 20: Non-baryonic Form -- Spatial Guest (CDr)

OUTSIDE OF CLUB STIRRED CARPENTRY VISIONS KETTLE-BOILED

A couple of years back, when the first track for this record was made, it would have perfectly fit our up to then favorite home made genre definition "outsider dance", hadn't it been around that same time outsider had started popping up all over, characterizing actual, proper in-club dance music, thus becoming linked to a mass of meanings, new or otherwise. To not mess those up we decided to label this "DIY armchair post-dance" instead. Accurate enough. Plus, shorten it to just "DIY armchair" and it'll come in equally handy, style-wise categorizing our carpentry projects, if ever we get bored and quit music altogether.

Going into detail, describing the passages that sound like catching an up-close, magically prolonged, one-second glimpse of tiny, new-agey sugar-and-newspaper smidges of house music swirl and melt in a glass of hot water—just before milk is stirred in—is what will look best in a press release, so let's leave it to that to clarify the precise einhalt of the EP-length.

But it's not just a record! No, it's a download too. We're making the highly enjoyable, contempo dub remolding that Helsinki ChipTronica 2.0 re-excogitator O Samuli A made of one of the tracks—with its so-well-defined-I-could-cry bass timbres and kettle boiled potato crisp, snappy echoes—available for the whole free music downloading community, as a www only bonus track!
